Dear Mr Swineheart

Februaary 2 2006

I am writing this letter to you, to explain the reason, I put my name, in front of the title of this application.

Years ago, I was serving as Captain of the S.S. SOCRATES. Greek shipowners and probably others, usually name their boats, after members of their family, starting with the name of their father.

Socrates was the name of Mr Onassis father. Mr O, had other ships named after his mother and his three sisters..

My father was a medical doctor and mayor of our native island of Ithaca for many years. He was twice decorated by the King of Greece, for his services, with the highest degree, given to civilians, and I thought that if I could, I would like to name my patent after him. I put his name, there not mine.

So Mr Swineheart, if it is possible, without bypassing any PTO rules, please let me have it, because the mane does not change the meaning of the title.

If you cannot do it, let me know and I will send you the same amendment without the name.

With many thanks

C.N. Colyvas
